DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 2-43, 46-48, and 52, drawn to a system and method for evaluating a user's problem solving skills in response to patient interventions input by the user, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
 - II. Claims 44 and 51, drawn to a method for training a on patient treatment practices by iterating through predetermined health states, classified in class 434, subclass 262.
 - III. Claim 45 drawn to a method for simulating a full fidelity model of a patient having at least one predetermined health state, classified in class 703, subclass 11.
 - IV. Claims 49 drawn to a method for evaluating a plurality of user's problem solving skills in response to interventions input by users for copies of simulated patients, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
 - V. Claim 50, drawn to a method of establishing a standard for a minimum level of patient care, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as evaluating a single user based upon interventions made to a simulated patient. Invention II has separate utility such as iterating through predetermined health states in response to interventions to train a user on patient treatment practices. Invention III has separate utility such as simulating a biological system such as a patient having at least one predetermined health state. Invention IV has separate utility such as creating a plurality of copies of a simulated patient and evaluating a plurality of user's problem solving skills in response to interventions input by the users to the plurality of simulated patients. Invention V has separate utility such as establishing a minimum level of patient care based on queries received from a plurality of users in response to a simulated patient. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for each of the groups are not required for the other, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. No telephone communication need be made where the requirement for a restriction is complex, the application is being prosecuted by the applicant pro se, or the examiner knows from past experience that an election will not be made by telephone. See MPEP § 812.01. In the present instance, it is deemed that the restriction is complex enough to require a written explanation of the distinction between the inventions. Hence, no telephonic restriction was made.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
